

What is the difference between Architectural view and viewpoint ?

view shows a specific face that stakeholders are interested in,

Architecture viewpoint is a tool for creating structured views and may use some styles and templates. It must also identify the interests of stakeholders.

Thats mean Every view has a viewpoint that describe it.